Recharging

- Make sure to recharge the product in the following situations: if you are using the product for the first time after purchase, if you have not used it for a very long time, if its power seems low, or if it seems to work for short periods of time.
- Insert the charging cable's connector into the device's charging port, and insert the AC adapter into a household power outlet, mobile battery or USB port equipped personal computer.
- While charging the charge notification light 'Power • Charge' turns on red light.
- The device may become slightly hotter while charging; however, this is normal.
- The charging time and operating time will vary depending on how frequently the product is used.
- The charging light changes to green when the product is fully charged. Make sure to disconnect the cable once charging is complete.
- This product cannot be used while connected to the charging cable. Make sure to check that the charging cable is disconnected when using the product.
- The most suitable room temperature for charging is 15°C to 30°C. Charging the product at low temperatures may shorten its battery life, so make sure to charge the product at the appropriate temperature. In addition, the product's charging speed may decrease at approximately 0°C or less.
- In order to protect the built-in battery, make sure to charge the product once per month even when you are not using it for long periods of time.
- If the product's operating time seems short even though it has been charged correctly, the cause of this is likely to be the battery life.

- Make sure to do a patch test so that you can use the product in complete safety.
- Apply some lotion to a weak part of your skin, such as the inside of your arm, and try out all the functionality provided by the product as outlined on this manual.
- Once you have verified that you have had no adverse reactions, you can move onto your face care. If you do experience any abnormality on your skin, do not use the product, and make sure to consult our company or your physician.
